In Orange County, roads continue to face growing congestion. Congresswoman Sanchez understands the need to help free people from rush hour traffic, freeway congestion, air pollution, and accidents, by supporting legislation which will benefit all commuters. She is a strong supporter of mass transit projects as an effective means of providing commuters with safe and easy alternatives for travel. The Congresswoman supports the construction of a light rail system to be built through six cities in Orange County, and the construction of a high speed train in California.
